

CUSTOMER PROPRIETARY NETWORK INFORMATION COMPLIANCE
CERTIFICATION

I, Pete Pizarro, as the Chief Executive Officer of Telefónica Larga Distancia de Puerto Rico, Inc.(TLD) hereby certify having personal knowledge that TLD doesn't use, disclose or permit access any of its Customer Proprietary Network Information (as defined on Section 222 (h) (l) of the Communications Act of 1934), for sales, marketing or any other purposes. TLD's established policy is not to sell or share its Customer's Proprietary Network Information with its affiliates or third parties for any purpose. As a matter of fact, TLD has implemented an Ethic Code and disciplinary process for the breach of any Confidentiality Agreement its employees signs as part of its hiring process. I emphasize that only certain employees of the company may have access to CPNI and that TLD's Network is a secure system and its data cannot be access by unauthorized persons. I reiterate that TLD doesn't use, disclose or accessed the CPNI in any manner proscribed by the FCC rules (47 § 64.2001 et. al.).

As of this date, January 15, 2006.
